Hey everyone. I wanted to appraise you all on what I've been working on:

Tuition Relief Now!
The Tuition Relief Now campaign seeks to limit our student fee increases. The campaign is attempting to get enough signatures to get a Ballot Initiative on the November 2008 ballot.

Why is what we pay for tuition an issue? Just to state a few facts: our tuition has almost doubled in the past five years. That's a little faster than inflation, in my book. Plus, we had a seven percent increase from last year to this year, and there is talk to increase it by that much again! Students need to push back these fee hikes - we're too easy a target for the UC Regents when they have a budget shortfall.

While the exact details of the proposed legislation are still not known to me, the campaign will be submitting their legislation very shortly. From my current understanding, the legislation would limit tuition increase to the CPI, an inflation index that is used in California. Effectively, our tuition would no longer be rising in terms of real dollars.

What can UC San Diego do? Get signatures! However, to do so, everyone that signs the Initiative must be registered to vote. I figure this is an excellent way to hit two birds with one stone, since I believe that with the proper information campaign, students will see the incentive in registering to vote.

I have already spoken with SAAC, and they will be voting whether or not they will support the measure on their Week 9 meeting.

The Campaign intends to start signature gathering in December, and will probably continue till April, I believe.

I intend on initially organizing an information campaign to ensure that students and student leaders are in the 'know'. I would like to build a coalition of interested students and groups to really bring this campaign to the forefront of student's minds.

Depending on the situation with finals, we will probably want to initialize the signature gathering at the start of Winter Quarter. That all will be in a whole new report ;).

These are the people that I have who are interested in helping with the Campaign:

Long, Junn, Nicole, Clark, Kathryn, Maya, John, Daryl, Sonia, Peter

If you're interested, please let me know or email me at ugupta@ucsd.edu

Facebook TritonBB

TritonBB is short for Triton Bulletin Board. This would be a bulletin board application that I would develop using the Facebook Developer API (yes, I'm that cool 8] ). I envision this bulletin board serving many capacities - from spreading campus news, to informing students about social and athletic events.
